Don't take another boring phone selfie until you've seen this...

If you're wondering what the viral thing of social media in 2018 will be, its already here...

Phone selfies are boring. People aren't doing them anymore and they've become unpopular...

First, there was the standard selfie, then the selfie stick, and now the next evolution of the selfie has arrived!

Have you ever wanted to get a snapshot or video of yourself climbing the side of a mountain, running with an awesome sunrise in the background, skiing a smooth run, jumping into a lake? Celebs and social media gurus are always uploading those stunning aerial 'wow' images aren't they?

Well, now you can too!

What are we talking about?

It's the new Drone 720X, a brand new type of drone made so that anyone can fly it. It's perfect for making the ultimate selfies!

The Drone 720X was designed by two German engineers who love drones. They found that the drones they had were very bulky, heavy and difficult to travel with.

So, they designed this ultra-compact, light drone, and all without sacrificing any of the main benefits of a top HD model.

It's firm, it's easy to control and it can livestream and record to your phone!

People are using them to take 'the ultimate selfies' - the results are incredible...

How does it work?

We were surprised by how easy it is to set up! First, you have to install an app (just scan the QR code in the manual). It's all very easy.

Once you have done that, just plug in the battery, connect to your drone and start up the app. In less than 10 seconds you're ready to fly your drone!

And then the best part comes: flying is so incredibly easy. The controls are just superb, really intuitive. Flying the drone feels natural. A colleague's kids happened to be at the office, and they figured it all out in seconds—on their first drone flight ever. It's just amazing how easy and smooth the controls are!

Once you're in the air, it's time to use the built-in camera. You can take the most stunning pictures and videos. Take videos from otherwise impossible angles and impress your friends with the coolest selfies!

See Drone 720X in action:

That's what we all want to know, right? I guessed it would be like $300 to $400, but I was wrong. They sell it for $99, which is tremendously cheap for a drone of this quality!
