

Uncertainty over NAFTA hasn't stopped Mexico's car manufacturing cities from thriving

by Kevin Sieff

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mexico —
Washingtonpost, August 10, 2018

Pedestrians pass the General Motors Recruitment Center in San Luis Potosi, Mexico. (Susana Gonzalez/Bloomberg News)

During his campaign, Donald Trump called American investment in this city “an absolute disgrace.” He lobbied Ford to stop building a $1.6 billion factory here, and the company acceded.

It appeared that this colonial capital, booming thanks to auto companies...

Subscribe to read the full article